Are Invited By Erce To Come Before Probers

Investigation of the operation and conduct of Lawrence County Emergency Relief board, as authorized by resolution No. 111 of the House of Representatives, passed April 1, 1935, got under way in the Lawrence county court house this morning, when four of the five members of the committee appointed to conduct the investigation present.

At the conclusion of the taking of testimony at noon today, Chairman W. J. Erce, Jr., of the committee, stated that the investigation would be continued on Fridays and Saturdays for a period of at least three weeks, and that persons who had any testimony to offer would be welcome to present such testimony. In fact, he urged that anyone who had any information to give, to voluntarily present themselves, so that a complete report could be submitted to the state legislature.

Four Members Present
The members of the committee who were in attendance were: William J. Erce, Jr., chairman, of New Castle; William G. Smith of Grove City; William J. Klinger of Butler and James Kelson of Enon Valley. R. F. D. L. Norman Dilley of Greenville, the fifth member of the committee, was not present.

Attorney Gilbert E. Long is acting as inquisitor for the committee, and Miss Fannie Seaton of Butler is the stenographer.

Most of the morning was spent in questioning James W. Moorhead, executive director of Sunday No. 10, which comprises Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties, relative to the manner in which employees in the relief office are hired, their duties and the number of persons employed.

He was asked what the duties of

PANNEW OBSERVES

The weatherman probably has to work Easter Sunday and doesn't care what the weather is like—but for the rest of us you intend to go to Sunday school and church, in our "Easter Best", the forecaster says "cloudy, probably rain, with little change in temperature."

Record church attendance will feature the services in Lawrence county churches on Sunday—Easter day. Many church members seem to attend Easter services who are not very regular in their attendance on other occasions.

Good Easter weather seems to be in sight for Sunday.

Decision of council to go ahead and widen and improve the remainder of Rural avenue, as soon as funds become available, is a commendable move. The improvement of Rural avenue is one of the things that will stand as a worth while venture during the depression days.

And by the way, why not finish the fence along the Croton avenue hill? That uncompleted balustrade is not a very inviting sight at the present time.

HARRISBURG, April 20.—

Legislators, in week-end recess, were back in their home communities to hear for the first time the voter-reaction over the fiscal situation since the Republican senate majority made public its alternate plan involving less taxation than recommended by Gov. George H. Earle.

Confere On Monday
No additional formal conferences were scheduled until Monday night when the senate majority meets in caucus again to consider suggestions by Governor Earle designed to bring the divergent views nearer to harmony. (Continued On Page Two)

I tell you I am going to try and get Oklahoma and California to do nothing in any way that will cause Secretary Ickes to shut out our water.

Eight Persons Burn To Death In Cottage Fire

(International News Service)

SAINT-EMILE DE LORETTE-VILLE, Que., April 20.—Eight persons—a father and his seven children—were burned to death today when fire swept their summer cottage here.

The blaze ripped through the flimsy structure with lightning-like rapidity, trapping Alphonse Renaud and his children within a flaming circle.

A servant girl, who was attempting to light the lamp when it exploded, was the only member of the household to escape.

Renaud had rented the cottage for the summer season and moved in last night with his seven children and the hired girl, whom he brought from Quebec City. Renaud's wife is ill in a hospital.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Robert (Big Shot) Weiner, notorious Brooklyn "tough guy", who beat a murder charge after he confessed to smuggling guns into Tombs prison shortly before a fatal riot there in 1926, was fighting a more serious rap today.

A few minutes before midnight Weiner was shot down and critically wounded in an argument over a narcotic layout in uptown New York.

Two well dressed gunmen shot down Weiner and his companion, Sam Rumaner, on the sidewalk and escaped in a high powered sedan. Police who arrived on the scene a few minutes after the shooting found the guns used by the gangsters and the dope layout lying in the street.

County Prepares To Observe Easter

Nineteen centuries of time will be rolled back Sunday morning, April 21, and in every church in Lawrence county there will be a commemoration of that scene not far from Calvary, when the Lord arose from the tomb. In hymns of praise and in sermons of reverence the resurrection will be remembered, ministers will devote their sermon time to it and the Sunday school lessons will center about it. It is the one Sunday of the year when there is no difference in the Christian churches, regardless of their creed.

Hardly a church but has made extensive preparations for the Easter services. Choirs have been rehearsing oratorios and cantatas and genuine joy will mark the service after the more sombre manner of Passion Week. It is the day when the triumphal resurrection of the Christ is celebrated, and along with the churches in every land and clime, the local churches will mark the day.

Today the weather is perfect Easter weather, with only a faint possibility that rain may mar the Easter morning. The perfect weather-acting in a highly favorable manner in the merchandising houses of the city. Today the streets are crowded and sales totals are mounting.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A Senate victory for the Roosevelt economic security program was forecast today by administration leaders after triumphant passage of the bill in the House.

The old age pension and unemployment insurance provisions of the bill may, it was conceded, provoke a protracted senate battle.

A movement to liberalize its old-age provisions may succeed, but leaders insisted the basic principles of the epochal measure will be approved.

The bill was passed by the house late yesterday by a vote of 372 to 33 after two days of floor fighting during which radical substitutes were downed in a chorus of opposing voices.

Call Pastor At Westfield

North Beaver Congregation
Extends Call To Rev.
E. A. Shoemaker

ACTION TAKEN AT MEETING FRIDAY

When the congregation of Westfield Presbyterian church had its annual meeting last night it was unanimously voted to extend a call to Edwin A. Shoemaker, a student of Western Theological seminary, Pittsburgh, who is this spring completing his studies in preparation for the ministry.

The Westfield congregation was enthusiastic in its praise of the young preacher and when the movement of extending a call was brought to a vote it was unanimous.

If Mr. Shoemaker accepts the call he will assume his duties early in May. Westfield church has been without a pastor for quite some time. Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, has been serving as moderator and presided at last night's meeting.

Mr. Shoemaker has delivered several sermons at the Westfield church and the congregation was very much impressed with his abilities. He is a graduate of Grove City college, and his father is the Rev. F. Benton Shoemaker, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Brookville, Pa., well known in religious circles of western Pennsylvania.

The young man is single and a speaker of real ability.

Other business of the evening included election of the following officers:

Elders—(three years) J. Holmes McClelland and W. Sharp Fullerton, and (one year, to fill unexpired term of the late Charles McClelland) D. W. Woods.

Auditor—(three years) Charles Raney.

Trustees—Harold Wallace, George Clark and Floyd Weller.

D. W. Woods was elected vice-moderator, to serve with Rev. Schnebly until the pulpit is filled.

BERLIN, April 20.—On occasion of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's 46th birthday, the German government today "most energetically repudiated" the resolution adopted by the League of Nations Council censuring German rearmament and denied the right of the powers to sit in judgment on Germany's acts.

A brief official communique revealed identical notes of protest had been sent to the governments which participated in the Geneva deliberations culminating in the resolution.

The communique follows: "The government of the Reich today sent official notification of protest to the governments which participated in the resolution of the League of Nations Council dated April 17.

"The note protesting against the resolution declares the governments are not entitled to assume the role of judges over Germany, and states the resolution constitutes an attempt at renewed discrimination against Germany. Therefore the resolution must be repudiated most energetically."

"Simultaneously the Reich government communicated to foreign governments her intention to reserve the right to make known shortly her attitude toward individual points in the Geneva resolution."

Banks Required To Give Facts On Persons On Relief Rolls

OTHER MEASURES SIGNED BY EARLE

(International News Service) — HARRISBURG, April 20.—Relief Director Robert L. Johnson today held authority to inquire into any hidden bank accounts or other securities possessed by families on relief.

The authority was bestowed when Gov. George H. Earle approved the Weiss bill requiring banks, upon request of the relief director, to disclose any accounts of families receiving relief that five per cent, or more than 20,000 families getting nearly $1,000,000 relief monthly, should not be receiving aid.

Signs Other Bills
Governor Earle also signed seven other bills including the Schrock-Westrick bill providing for splitting up the unreturned balance in the fire insurance tax fund among firemen's relief pension and retirement funds. In signing the bill, Governor Earle pointed out that the division cannot be made until transferred money is diverted for relief is returned to the fund.

Other bills signed were:
Harris, providing that, Pittsburgh voters sign their name when voting, to check against their registration card signature.

Weidemann, validating and providing for collection of certain local assessments for municipal improvements.

Smith, revising the act permitting borrowing by farming concerns.

Smith, permitting cooperatives to give chattel mortgages.

COUNTY RELIEF PROBE IS BEGUN BY LEGISLATORS

the local relief board were, and the personnel of the board. Mr. Moorhead stated that he did not have the names of all the members of the committee at hand, but that Dr. G. S. Bennett was chairman. Later on in the questioning he gave the names of the committee as far as he remembered them, for all three counties of his area. He said that the committee was not active and had not been since he was in charge here, the idea being that a new committee was to be appointed by the state, and that their duties would be defined.

Three Divisions
He stated that the Emergency Relief administration was divided into three divisions, Relief, Works, and Financial, each having separate heads. He is director of relief in the three counties and responsible to the State Relief Board at Harrisburg.

The County Relief Board has no authority, as far as he has been able to ascertain, he stated, under the present setup, only acting in an advisory capacity, which they have done since he has been connected with the local office. He stated that he had been here since November 5, 1934.

There are 77 employees under his particular division, he stated, part of whom are area employees.

These consist of 41 investigators, or visitors, as they are termed under the setup, four case supervisors, one information clerk, one receptionist, one stenographer, one district office clerk, three file clerks, two typists, four in the rent department, one telephone operator, one relief telephone operator, one mimeograph operator, four janitors, one cleaner and watchman, one notification clerk, one secretary, one statistician, one executive director, one thrift garden director, and one industrial contact man.

Method Of Employment
In securing employment, the person makes an application, he stated. His references are then contacted, and the information is mailed to the personnel department at Harrisburg.

If approved, they are called in for an examination, and if this is passed, they submit to an interview. The interviewing is done by a representative of the personnel department at Harrisburg.

The qualifications for visitors is that they have at least a high school education, with college training preferred. Credit is given for the latter, and for experience in contacting the public, any social work engaged in as nursing, welfare work, teaching, etc.

He has control over the appointment, if the applicants are on an equal basis, he stated, and they try to select the person in the greatest need of employment. The need is determined by investigation as to any possible income, references are contacted and acquaintances. An attempt is also made to secure information from the banks relative to their financial condition. If the banks cooperate this can be secured. If they do not, there is no way to obtain this information. Some banks are disposed to tell and some are not, he stated.

No Control Over Salaries
In case he cannot conduct the investigation himself, he said, he designates the area supervisor, Miss Blanche Humphrey. She has come here since he took charge, he stated. He has no control over the salaries paid the visitors, he stated.

In addition to the visitors, Mr. Moorhead stated that others employed have been clerks in the social service department, and employees of the rent department, which was created in January. This is in charge of Mr. Leivo.

Case supervisors, he stated must have had previous experience in social service work. The interviewers must be courteous, sense the need of the people they are visiting, and are chosen from the visiting staff. Miss Beulah Norris is in charge of the investigators, he stated, who resides in New Castle. The county supervisors are selected by Miss Norris, he stated.

Bulletin Cited
Mr. Moorhead's attention was then called to a bulletin issued by the state board, relative to employment, which hands down five rules. This was issued on February 11, 1935, and the rules are to the following effect:

1—Where two persons of equal ability apply for a position, the job shall be given to the one with the greatest need.

2—Only one member of an immediate family shall be carried on the unemployment payroll.

3—Two members of the same family, but living in separate households shall not be considered to apply under rule 2.

4—Applications will be received from persons not in need of relief, but where a person is in need of employment, they shall replace such employees if they have equal qualifications.

5—Occasional exceptions may be made to any of the rules with the approval of the director.

Mr. Moorhead said that he made some changes under the first ruling since the order came out. He said there was also one case where there were two in one family working, and one was discharged.

Area Relief Board
There was also an area relief board, in addition to the county relief boards, Mr. Moorhead stated, the personnel comprising the board consisted of T. P. Nixon of Butler of New Castle, T. P. Ketter of Grove City. He did not know how they were selected. They had held meetings, he stated, but he had not attended any of them. They had not clearly defined duties prescribed for them, he stated.

As far as he was concerned, the board didn't mean anything, he replied in answer to a question in this regard from Mr. Long.

He gave the personnel of the Butler, Mercer and Lawrence county boards, when asked this question again, the Lawrence county board being composed of Dr. Bennett, Dr. Paul Wilson and Mrs. Matheny.

His duties required him to divide his activities in the three counties, he stated. There is a relief office in the Standard Steel Car building in Butler, and one in Sharon, also.

The amount of relief distributed is dependent on the number in the family and the need. There is a standard chart for this purpose, he stated.

Clothing is requisitioned from the state, and occasionally a small amount is received from the federal government. This is generally allocated, and is extra.

Coal is distributed through local coal dealers, when a family is shown, and the investigation proves the applicant worthy, he stated. Medical service, milk, and other supplies are also given in the same manner.

The rent department was created in January. It looks up applications for rent assistance. The amount paid is twice the amount of the utilities. So far, most of them only provide water, however, he stated. If they do not take care of the utilities, the amount paid is one and one-half times the rent. Furnished apartments are different. The rent department has nothing to do with the selection of places to live and a person can select a home beyond his station in life, he stated.

Agreements are made between the rent department and the landlord.

No Cash For Food
No cash is paid out for food. Persons having work relief do not get food relief, only medical assistance, he stated.

The leasing of the local relief quarters was done through the local board. He had no knowledge as to the length of the lease.

The administration of salaries is under the financial division, of which Fred J. Barnes is supervisor. Miss Margaret M. Davis, of New Castle is the assistant controller, he said, who was familiar with the names and salaries of employees of the department.

Employees are divided into three groups, the Lawrence County Works Division, the Lawrence County Relief Division; and the Area 10 employees, he stated.

In the first group, there are 31 employees, in the second group, 69; and the third group, 75.

Tells Of Salaries
Miss Margaret Davis was then called to the stand and was asked to attest to the salaries of the employees under the three groups. The total payroll per week of the first group as of March 31, was $692.06; of the second group, $1,202.43; and of the third group, $1,353.05.

Salaries Paid
Salaries of clerks in the works division ranged from $10 to $16.15 per week. Other salaries were: Linus Blackwell, engineer, $40.30; Francis Butler, assistant engineer, $31.15; Dave Harris, chief time keeper, $32.31; C. C. McDevitt, engineer, $34.62; Frank E. Patterson, assistant staff engineer, $36.92; William Reynolds, clerk, $18; Charles B. Ross, $23; J. H. Savolaine, construction engineer, $36.92; Edith Soberg, clerk, $23.08; W. Leslie Wilson, acting deputy director, $46.15.

Under the relief division, the visitors or investigators received $17.31 per week, clerks $15 to $16.15 per week, Edward Grimes, superintendent, $19.62; Elizabeth Hamilton, assistant supervisor, $27.07; Beulah Norris, supervisor, $20.83.

Under relief area employees, salaries for clerks was $15 to $16.15; Matthew Leivo, rent department, $28.85; Blanche Humphrey, assistant area supervisor, $51.97; and Mr. Moorhead, director, $57.69.

In the financial division, Fred J. Barnes, controller, gets $57.69; Miss Davis, assistant, $34.62; Frank Crouch, bookkeeper, $24.23; J. P. Dagnon, division office chief, $28.85; while accountants received up to $34.62, and clerks, $15 to $18. The total salary for the financial division was $1,353.85.

The morning hearing concluded with the reading of these salaries of the great number of employees receiving approximately the same amount the salaries of all are not given here.

officials throughout the Reich in publicly reminding Germans of existence of their new armed forces and in paying tribute to Hitler as the one man responsible for them.

The Reich army took a leading role in celebrations everywhere. Every army garrison in the country went on parade, and military leaders in scores of cities led the lists of speakers eulogizing Der Fuehrer.

Hitler himself perhaps was not as much in keeping with this spirit as he was last year. Now in the third year of his political might, he appears much older than he did a year ago. His face is fuller and has more and deeper lines.

He is careful to avoid overstrain of any sort, and often seeks the restful quiet of his Bavarian mountain home. He clings to his vegetarian diet, does not smoke or drink, and often takes a long walk for exercise.

Thousands Of Gifts
At the chancellery, where he arrived last night from Munich, Hitler received thousands of gifts and congratulatory telegrams.

General Werner Von Blomberg, Reich minister of war, conveyed the wishes of the Reichswehr by calling upon Hitler at the chancellery shortly before noon. There followed an inspection of a goose-stepping company of honor in full regimental colors.

At noon Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Reich minister of propaganda, went on the air with a nationwide radio broadcast in which he paid high tribute to Der Fuehrer. Contrary to the expectation of many, Dr. Goebbels failed to mention the League of Nations censure of German rearmament this week.

Goebbels' only mention of foreign affairs was a comment upon Hitler's "skill" in conducting negotiations following the world startling announcement of German conscription in March.

"Hitler," said Dr. Goebbels, "is fanatically obsessed by his mission. He has sacrificed a fortune and his private life for it. Often in the small circle of his co-fighters it is said, 'it will be terrible when some day the first of us dies, and a place which cannot be filled again becomes vacant.'"

Foreign diplomats, among them American Ambassador William E. Dodd, congratulated Hitler during the day.

President, Mrs. Ruth Lutz; vice president, Mrs. Mildred Allison; secretary, Mrs. Ida Donnan; assistant secretary, Mrs. Joseph Grimm; treasurer, Mrs. Hulda Grossman; flower fund chairman, Mrs. Jessie Bookamer; song leader, Mrs. Vera McKenzie; and pianist, Mrs. Irene Mackie.

The class will meet on the third Monday evening of each month. At this week's meeting thirteen members and two special guests were present.

Upstreamers Class

Mrs. William Johns of Sheridan avenue had as guests on Thursday evening, members of the Upstreamers class of the Epworth M. E. church for their April meeting.

Games and chat interested the group. The team led by Miss Madeleine Nicholson won a contest conducted by the entire class. At a later hour a delicious lunch appropriately arranged to coincide with the Easter season, was served by Mrs. Johns, assisted by Miss Nicholson. The places were marked by small Easter eggs with the names of the guests written on them with candy scrolls. The next meeting on May 9, will be at the home of Miss Nicholson, Mulberry street.

EASTER DAY

THE great Christian festival once more centers attention, if only for the day, on the life and the events that Easter commemorates. The world looks back 1,900 years on the life of a Galilean peasant.

What did He do that produced consequences so momentous for mankind? Not a great deal in a material way. But His soul was so on fire with love for his fellowmen, with devotion to a way of life that would establish the kingdom of God on earth, that the fire spread to those with whom He associated, and through them to the world.

While He was in a sense a child of His time, as all must be, there was a universality and timelessness in His soul that gave Him mastery of the ages. Through the centuries that have passed since the tragedy on Golgotha, ardent spirits have drunk of His inspiration and have gone out to move vast numbers of people.

"The trouble with Christianity," says Bernard Shaw, "is that it never has been tried." True, the world would not be in its present plight if it had been dominated by His spirit.

The Golden Rule He gave is only a general precept. It has been criticized as affording no real basis in a complex civilization for the settlement of profound domestic and international differences. When both sides believe they are right, how can the admonition, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them," help compose the dispute?

Yet the spirit of the Golden Rule, the spirit of generous love and sympathy, would be a universal solvent of problems if it could be sincerely applied.

So Easter day will have value to us if we grasp the ideals it brings to our minds so dramatically; if we see a little more clearly that blind adherence to self-interest in the long run courts disaster; that salvation for the world as for individuals lies in following the path He laid out so long ago.

CHECK UP ON FIRE HAZARDS

Fire losses take more toll in property damage and lives than the activities of gangsters and criminals. The people take measures to protect themselves against criminal activity. Why not apply the same principle to the solution of our fire waste problem, which can be definitely controlled by a little care and forethought?

Fire is an indispensable agency. If kept under control, fire serves constructively; but if not confined to proper usages, it is disastrous and ruinous. Eighty per cent of the first losses which have occurred in Pennsylvania have been found to be due to the human element in the form of carelessness, indifference and neglect. This results each year in needless waste of millions of dollars in property damage and an appalling list of fatalities and casualties. If the people will realize the seriousness of uncontrolled fire, and in turn will co-operate with their state and local authorities in the prevention and removal of fire hazards, the unwarranted fire losses of the past will not recur.

Spring Clean-up Week provides a natural starting point for the proper disposal of fire-generating accumulations. It also should inspire a thorough checking of the home and places of business to unearth conditions and combinations which invite conflagrations, so that the necessary corrections can be applied.

Statistics clearly indicate that over three-fourth of the fire losses are caused by some careless act or omission on the part of the individual. It consequently follows that heavy fire losses, with their resultant disastrous effects, will continue until the people themselves actually and actively take part in fire prevention work to curb this national menace.

THIRD PARTY AGITATION

Talk of a third party, even of a fourth, increases. It is due to the failure of the New Deal, so elaborately exploited in direct violation of the pledges of the Democratic platform of 1932 and of the Democratic administration, to produce satisfying results.

The country in a few months will enter upon another presidential campaign. As a matter of course, Mr. Roosevelt will be the nominee of the Democratic party. To what extent more advanced "liberalism" will control the Roosevelt convention is for the present mere speculation.

From somewhere the Republican convention will produce a candidate. Who he will be, whence he will come, who can say? Just as the Democratic party is divided on policies, so is the Republican. Issues must be fought out in the rival conventions and submitted to the people.

In May Republicans of the Mid-West are to assemble and promulgate principles intended to guide and influence Republican voters in the election of delegates a year or so hence.

While the Republican party may and should be conservatively liberal, it can not make of itself a weak imitation of the Democratic party. It must stand for progressiveness, but within constitutional limitations. How far the Democratic party may go beyond these limitations remains to be seen. But even the most ardent of the Brain Trusters surely can not travel the lengths advocated by those who hold up to public view an impossible Utopia with leisure and money and homes and every luxury supplied for the asking. That sort of thing is left to the apostles of dreamland; to Huey Long, for instance, who is toying with the idea that as a candidate he might sweep the country.

It may be that Long will head a third party. But there are other movements in process of incubation. Within a week announcement has come from Alfred M. Bingham, secretary of the Farmer-Labor Political Federation, that conferences have already been held looking to the organization of a new party with, apparently, the La Follette Progressives of Wisconsin and the Farmer-Laborites of Minnesota forming the nucleus. Third and fourth parties, marching far to the left, would, seemingly, draw much more heavily from the Democrats than from the Republicans. However, we are still a considerable distance from the 1936 delegate elections, and much will depend upon the state of the nation and the condition of its people when the next president is chosen.

A busy and contented country is never ripe for political revolution. Real recovery would tend to disintegrate the ranks of the Huey Longs and other disturbers and dispel many of the phantasies that now persist. Mr. Roosevelt has been promising such recovery. His theories and his four billion dollars will be put to a thorough test during the year to come.

Can you remember way back 15 or 20 years ago when a man was proud of his ability to make money?

OH, MR. PITKIN

Mr. Pitkin, I've been looking through your book. I mean the one you wrote about Life Beginning at Forty. . . . I thought I ought to, for I was 40 a few months ago. When your book came out a year or so ago, and sold so well because there are so many people about to be 40, or 40, or just past 40. I didn't see any need to be reading it. . . . For I was only 39, and there are centuries of time between 39 and 40.

But now that I actually am 40, I thought I ought to read it. . . . So I read it, and perhaps I ought to tell you that I don't feel any different. Your medicine didn't do me any good, Mr. Pitkin. . . . Perhaps I didn't "give myself" whoopee enough to the book. Perhaps I had my tongue in my cheek. Perhaps I didn't honestly accept that title of yours, "Life Begins at Forty". I was skeptical.

Yes, I WAS skeptical. I believe Life Begins at Forty and I don't believe it. . . . My idea is that it is "beginning" all the time. It has been ending and starting every year of my life. And I don't expect it to start all over again, suddenly, explosively, at 40.

Besides, if Life Begins at Forty for me, what have I been doing all my life up till now?

I used to be a little kid with long yellow curls. And then my mother cut them off. I used to ride a velocipede down the cement sidewalk. Then I had a bike. And I read all of Henry's books and Horatio Alger's. And went swimming in our home town river. And had a "girl". And saw my first honest-to-goodness PLAY, and my first movies. . . . And went to college and was very lonely and then not so lonely and had my triumphs and my disasters. . . . And I went to war and I saw men die. And I've been in love. And I've fathered children and I saw a child born. . . . I've been a fool and I've been fairly wise. I've been cranky and I've been philosophical. I've been a coward and I've been brave. I've worked and I've loafed.

Seems to me, Mr. Pitkin, I've done considerable living up to now, and I'd be awfully sorry if Life Begins at Forty. All I ask is that it KEEP ON GOING. . . . That'll be plenty. That'll be enough to keep me busy and as happy as I deserve.

ONLY THE STRONG CAN ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY

You have always managed to avoid assuming responsibility. You don't want to bear the brunt of anything.

Let the other fellow sweat and squirm to make ends meet, but not you.

All your life, if there was any cream, you got it.

It seems to you that you should always have all the privileges.

But why should you be more favored than your neighbor?

Why should you not share your part of any possible blame?

It is hard to understand how some people figure their just rewards.

There is no exclusive gold-lined cup for any mortal.

Some are favored from birth and seem to move along for a time without any trouble.

But humanity asserts itself and soon the bitter comes along with the sweet.

The mistake lies in not realizing the fact.

You will get more sympathy and understanding from those who have suffered themselves and so know the needs of the unfortunate.

Don't avoid the consequences of failure; stand up and take them bravely.

THE SINGLE ROSE

A rose from a woman's bouquet. Fell as she stepped from her car. But not caring she hurried away. For what's one when many there are?

On her arm there were twenty or more.

So she left with no sign of regret. That rose with the fragrance it bore. Was a thing not worth stooping to get.

But another who passed down the way. Discovered the scorned rose and smiled.

It would gladden at least for a day. The life of her sick little child.

What a fortunate chance for that rose.

To be dropped at the rich woman's door.

Now a greater delight it bestows. Than will ever the twenty or more.

If motorcycle riders are trying to make all the noise it is possible for one person to make they are succeeding nicely. That is about the only time any person pays any attention to them.

BRIDE-SELLING IN SERBIA

Many of the younger Serbians wish their elders would abolish the custom of buying and selling brides, but the older generation can't see it that way. And the authorities are helpless to stop the practice, too, because negotiations between the parents involved are carried on in secret by a marriage broker, called the stornik, and no one is wiser until it is settled.

The supporters of the old order claim they are paid to great expense in wearing their daughters and it is only right and fair that the bridegroom should pay for the added help he thus obtains for his household in taking a wife.

Prices vary greatly in this Serbian bride market, some fetching as high as 30,000 dinars (about $600), others as low as 2,000 dinars. A bride's worth is measured by her health, strength and knowledge of farm and household affairs. Beauty is a secondary consideration, but should the prospective wife possess it her value is enhanced.

In many instances when a suitor has been too poor to pay the price asked by the girl's parents, he has abducted his bride with the aid of friends. And as only the spilling of blood can wipe out the deep humiliation and disgrace of having a daughter "snatched", feuds lasting through generations have in this way begun.

If there were any upside down stomachs some years ago no attention was paid to them by those who harbored them.

The World At A Glance

Explains War Profits Bill. Senator Nye Not Satisfied. La Guardia For Administration.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street
By LESLIE EICKEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 20.—Bernard M. Baruch, former Wall Street operator who is studying the war profits question for President Roosevelt, has a hard time explaining to Senator Gerald P. Nye, of the senate munitions committee why he has a "hedged" on previous testimony before the committee.

Baruch seemed in that testimony to assent to the "pay-as-you-go" war plan drawn up by John T. Flynn, the economic writer, at the committee's request.

But the other day Baruch filed a statement with the committee opposing the Flynn measure for "taking the profit out of war."

Flynn's measure would provide virtual confiscation of all incomes over $10,000 in time of war. Industrialists also would be drafted on a military basis.

Baruch said his testimony had been garbled.

Senator Nye has been critical of the naming of Baruch by the president on any committee to suggest curbing war profits. He has insisted that Baruch and his associates have been too closely connected with war profits.

A BUCKING TAMMANY

Tammany seems to be stronger than either Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York or the national administration is willing to admit.

The governor is happy over the passage of the late legislature of "virtually all" the measures he had recommended.

But Tammany, allied with Old Guard Republican opposition, defeated the two most important measures.

Redistricting, which would have cut Tammany representation.

And ratification of the child labor amendment.

The national administration urged both these measures.

LA GUARDIA AS SUPPORTER

Actually, the strongest supporter of the national administration has in New York state on progressive measures is not a Democrat. He is a man the national administration tried to defeat for election.

He is Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York.

Speaking for the child labor amendment, and discussing the opposition of manufacturers' associations, Mayor La Guardia said:

"They don't want the federal government to come into the state of New York. You'd think the federal government was a foreign enemy! I'll say this: I'll trust the federal government before I'll trust the Manufacturers' association."

"If the federal government has the right to come into your home, take your son, put him into a uniform, give him a gun and send him off to be killed in war, it has the right to go into factories and take out of them the children working there and put them back into their homes."

Today's Yesterdays—April 20, 1876—Nathaniel Bacon, 34, Virginian born in England, started the first Revolution against British rule in America.

Colonists, already rebellious because of heavy and unequal taxes, had not been protected by the royal government from the depredations of Susquehanna tribes. When they rose under Bacon to wage war on the Susquehanna, Gov. Sir William Berkeley was fearful his profitable fur trade with the Amerindians would be disrupted, and ordered the force disbanded. Colonists went ahead with their war; Berkeley declared Bacon a rebel, and the colonists turned their guns against the Virginia government.

The governor had to yield. Diplomatically, he made Bacon commander-in-chief of the Virginia militia.

April 20, 1854—California, growing rich and populous from its gold rush, hailed a new era in transportation with the arrival at the Golden Gate of the clipper, Flying Cloud from New York in record time—89 days, 8 hours.

April 20, 1898—President William McKinley, empowered by the Congress to intervene in Cuba by force "to establish peace and order," sent an ultimatum to the government of 16-year-old King Alfonso, ordering it to withdraw its military and naval forces from the island.

Spain could send but one reply: it came the next day: war.

April 20, 1910—Samuel L. Clemens, world famed as Mark Twain, died at the age of 75, the same day Halley's comet reached its nearest point to the Sun. He had predicted the date of his death a year before!

Notable Nativities—Ohio C. Barber, b. 1841, pioneer American match manufacturer . . . Daniel Chester French, b. 1850, celebrated American sculptor . . . Marcus Aurelius, b. 121 A. D., philosophic Roman emperor whose precepts survive as classic literature . . . Harold Lloyd, b. 1895, cinemactor . . . Gregory Ratoff, b. 1879, Greek-Catholic delineator of Jewish roles . . . Adolph Hitler, b. 1889. (See below.) He has been a German citizen less than five years!

SUNDAY

Sunday's Yesterdays—April 21, 323 B. C.—Diogenes the Cynic and his most famous contemporary died the same day, Diogenes in Corinth; and Alexander in Babylon.

Diogenes, a great Greek philosopher who lived humbly in a tub (so Seneca tells us), was not impressed when he was visited once by Alexander, master of the known world. Young Alexander inquired whether there was anything he could do for him. "Yes," said the old man, "stand from between me and the sun."

April 21, 1836—Sam Houston led an army of frontiersmen against a larger Mexican force to win the battle of San Jacinto and establish the independence of Texas. He was 43 years old at the time.

April 21, 1908—Upon this day, Dr. Frederick A. Cook insists, he discovered the North Pole.

Neither upon this day nor upon any other day, authorities still insist, did Dr. Cook reach the Pole.

April 21, 1914—The United States was the first to go to war in this year of wars.

It landed Marines at Vera Cruz to seize the city and compel President Huerta to apologize for an insult which Washington officials believed he had inflicted on the U. S. flag.

Notable Nativities—Frederich Forebel, b. 1782, German founder of the kindergarten system . . . Charlotte Bronte, b. 1816, British novelist . . . Reginald Heber, b. 1783, British bishop who wrote the hymn "From Greenland's Icy Mountains etc." . . . Sir Basil Thomson, b. 1861.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, refusing to "believe in fairness," has selected 206 to 56 the Townsend old-age pension plan. That plan would have given $200 a month to everybody past sixty, requiring to start with, about twenty thousand million dollars a year.

An old colored gentleman admitted that he did not believe in eternal hell fire, "because I don't believe no constitution could stand it."

Uncle Sam's financial "constitution" could hardly stand an annual drain of twenty thousand million dollars, twenty times the amount of the United States public debt before the war started. After all, "one billion" is some money.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S "security measure" including a moderate pension for the aged, will probably pass. Two hundred dollars a month for everybody past 65. (Continued on Page Seven)

Young People Going To Have Union Revival

Week Of Nightly Services To Open Monday In Primitive
Methodist Church

A "Union Young People's Revival" that will be for and by young people is going to be launched on Monday evening in the Primitive Methodist church, South Mill street. It will sail through Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights inclusive and promises to take on a huge crowd of passengers on the trip.

Miss Elizabeth Lewis, an evangelist from Waldo street, is to be the speaker. Miss Lewis, who is a graduate of New Castle high school with the class of June, 1934, has just closed a very successful series of meetings at Erie, Pa.

She is a speaker of ability and her messages will be of the utmost interest to the people who gather nightly in the Primitive Methodist church. While the meetings are being sponsored by the young people they are for young and old alike.

Gene Brockmole, another graduate of Senior high school, will be chairman of the series. Special music, rendered by local young people, will be features of each evening. Many churches will be represented at the services. It will be a "union" revival in every respect.

sixty, with the stipulation that every dollar must be spent before the month is out, would be pleasing although calculated to discourage thrift.

Those past sixty will prefer a Roosevelt pension in real money to a Dr. Townsend pension in imaginary money.

The old, as a rule, have ceased dreaming in practical matters and know that a smaller sum in real money is preferable to a bigger sum in dream money.

REAL LENGTH of life depends, not on the number of years, but on how much you do while you are alive.

Alexander the Great, in his short life, lived a thousand times as long as a Galapagos turtle that lives six hundred years.

That is what makes automobiles so valuable. Saving time, making greater accomplishment possible, they make life longer. What applies to automobiles applies to flying.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York, to visit the scenes of his boyhood in far away Arizona, flew from New York with his wife last Wednesday. Next day he changed to a private plane, went flying over the Grand Canyon; spent the night there. Then he flew on to his boyhood home. Next Monday he will be back in the city hall.

JOE BAUER, who went to school with Mayor LaGuardia long ago, says the Mayor was "short and skinny" as a boy, and: "I used to lick him nearly every day."

Mr. LaGuardia is still short, but no longer skinny, and "licking" him today, after his experience as a war flier in France and a political fighter in New York, would not be so easy.

DETROIT ANNOUNCES that, in the month of March, Henry Ford spent one hundred million dollars, "for wages and materials." This bookkeeping fact seems to clash with the theory that nobody should be allowed to have more than nine million dollars.

It would be hard on Henry Ford's workmen, and those that supply his materials, if his total fortune fell short of his requirements for one month by ninety-one million dollars.

ARRIVAL OF THE Dionne quintuplets has aroused wide curiosity in "plural births," according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

In one hundred births, Mr. F. H. Ecker assures you twins appear once. When they are both girls, twins live longer than when they are both boys, by about thirteen years on the average.

The average life of all twins is shorter than that of single babies, endowed with the mother's entire vitality.

Mamma Dionne appears to have had vitality enough for five, which is exceptional.

GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON, who hatched the Blue Eagle egg, and was cruelly thrown out of the NRA nest when the bird grew up, forgives the bird and all others, says NRA should be continued because it was "the first intelligent attempt to curb monopoly and concentration of industry." Some will ask "what industry?"

In Gen. Johnson's opinion, we must have a prosperous Blue Eagle, or to quote his picturesque language, "FAGE MR. STALIN!"

Many Inspect Peculiar Flower In News Office

Snake Lily Is On Exhibition—Blooms Early In Spring

Many visitors have passed through The News lobby in the past twenty-four hours viewing the Snake Lily or Devil's Tongue which is on display there. The flower was raised by Fred L. Rentz, president of The News from a huge bulb given him by Prof. Charles G. Lindner.

The botanical name for the plant is "Amorphophallus Rivieri" and according to a description of it, it produces the largest flowers in the world. In its native habitat the flower is so large that a man standing upright can barely reach the top with the tips of his fingers, and can only reach half way around its circumference.

In this country the flower is usually not less than two feet in length. It blooms early in the spring before the leaves appear. It usually has one leaf sometimes two. The leaf stem is the same as the flower stem, and the leaf is a lacy-like umbrella shape, stem in the middle. In its native habitat all roots appear on the top of the bulb, none below.

Churches, Clubs, Teachers, Taking Y. W. Memberships

Considerable Progress Being Made In Y. W. C. A. Campaign Which Closes

SCHOOL INSURANCE

April 19, 1935

The New Castle News,
New Castle, Penna.

Gentlemen:

In your recent article concerning the allocation of fire insurance on New Castle schools, it would appear that the insurance committee, with the approval of the school board, was right in awarding the insurance to New Castle agents only. Agents who reside, do business and pay taxes in New Castle should certainly get all of the insurance.

As to insuring only in "Old line" "A" plus companies, this is also commendable, but why limit the coverage to stock companies? Why not include "Old line" "A" plus, Non-Assessable, legal reserve, divided paying Mutual companies as well, provided they are represented by local agents? Everything else being equal, is it amiss to effect a saving of taxpayer's money?

Yours Very Truly,
Robert M. Strickler, Jr.

Local Youth Has Travel Adventure

Paul Herbert Shaw Travels 65,000 Miles, Going As Far As South America

Paul Herbert Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shaw, of Sheridan avenue has hung up a record of 65,000 miles in travel in the past seven months, and when he leaves New Castle next Monday morning, after a visit with his parent, he plans for a trip to Europe which will add several more thousand miles to his itinerary.

He left New Castle last August, going from here to the World's Fair, then on to St. Marie, Canada. He hitch-hiked 2,000 miles or more through the wilds of Canada, on into Brunswick and Nova Scotia. He crossed back into the states at Calais, Maine, coming down through the New England states to New York City.

There he obtained a job with the Furness Steamship line, and three weeks later departed for South America. He has made three trips to South America, touching on the different trips five important ports: Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Montevideo, Buenos Aires and Trinidad, coming north. He feels he has gleaned a world of experience on his recent adventure and is eagerly anticipating his next trip.

Has Rare Relic Of Presidential Fight

Memento Of Cleveland-Harrison Campaign In 1888 Possessed By Charles Stritmatter

Charles Stritmatter, 444 Court street, has an interesting relic of the Cleveland-Harrison campaign for president in 1888. It was designed by some enterprising Republican, after Cleveland had been defeated by Benjamin Harrison.

The relic is in the shape of a card about two inches wide and four inches long. Attached to the top of the card is a fac-simile of a rooster, the emblem of the Democratic party. It is lying on its back, its toes turned up in the air, eyes closed and tail drooping. The rooster is covered with real feathers, has a red comb and natural looking legs and feet. It is the artists way of saying the Democratic party is dead.

Underneath the rooster is the following inscription: "Died, Nov. 6, 1888. This Democratic bird, Grover Cleveland and Free trade. Funeral services at Washington, D. C., March 4, 1889."

The relic was found among the effects of Charles Fisher, deceased, of Pittsburgh, by his daughter, Carrie Fisher, who is now the wife of Charles Stritmatter. Mr. Fisher was one of the organizers of the Republican party and an ardent supporter of its principles until the time of his death.

Blanton Pitches One-Hit Contest, Defeats Cards

Pittsburgh Pirate Rookie Sets World's Champs Down With 3 To 0 Game

SEVERAL OTHER ROOKIES STAR

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 20.—With one rookie pitching a one-hit shutout against the champion Cardinals, another turning in a six hit victory over the champion Tigers and a third youngster getting four homers in two days, it might be well to hold up all prognostications, predictions and prophecies until further returns are in.

Cy Blanton was the lad who raised pennant hopes sky high in Pittsburgh when he held the slugging Cards to a lone single by old Virgil Davis. While Cy was turning on the heat to the amazement of Frisch & Co., his buddies were getting to Bill Hallahan for three runs. Bill could have been a lot better and still run second.

Rookie Beats Tigers

Johnny Whitehead, a Texas rookie, was the lad who set the Tigers down 3 to 2 for the edification of the White Sox. He, too, would have had a shutout but for the fact that he thought he might come down the middle with a fast one against Charley Gehringer. When anybody tries that, the ball usually goes for a long, long ride. However, Johnny must have something between the ears for it is to be noted he didn't try it again.

Dolph Camilli, the Philly first baseman, was the third youngster to make the oldsters sit up and take notice. Dolph peeled off five hits, including the aforesaid brace of homers, against Giant pitching, than which there is supposed to be nothing finer. The Giant pitching must have turned sour lately as 22 hits of assorted shapes and sizes and an 18 to 7 beating will attest.

Giants Walloped

It's been many a moon since any team maltreated the Giants in that Fashion. Such treatment by the Phillies is nothing less than the majesty and Bill Terry probably will take steps.

The rookies were good indeed yesterday but they didn't hog all the limelight. Up Boston way, Lefty Clark, assaying a comeback after two dismal years, trimmed the Braves, 4 to 2, despite a couple of singles—hardly worth mentioning—by Babe Ruth.

That was in the morning as part of a Patriots day celebration. After lunch, the Dodgers repeated by the same score with Johnny Babich operating. Danny Taylor settled this one early by hitting a homer with the bases fully tenanted.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

THE FOUNDATION OF YOUTH

If you are of the opinion that all hope for finding the Fountain of Youth died with Ponce de Leon, you should glance at the data on birth records given by some of the baseball players. These fellows seemingly have no difficulty at all in finding means of rejuvenation.

Sammy Byrd apparently drank the greatest quantity from the magical fount. He was born on Oct. 5, 1907, as per the Yankee roster of 1934, but when he transferred to the Cincy Reds his date of birth became Oct. 12, 1913. Sammy must have felt that there was something wrong with the last drop in the cup at any rate the six year subtraction in his age is lacking three days.

Byrd's nickname should really have been "Early" since he got his start in baseball soon enough to get all the worms in the state of Georgia where he was born. His professional career began in 1926 when Birmingham of the Southern association signed and farmed him to Jonesboro of the Tri-State league.

Byrd hit 348 in that league which wasn't at all bad for a 13 year old youngster. At the tender age of 16, figuring his birth date as given on the Cincinnati roster, he began in 1929, a year campaign as the stooge of Babe Ruth.

Joe Glenn, rookie Yankee catcher, should inform "Believe-it-or-Not" Ripley of a peculiarity in his age. Joe, according to the Newark and New York rosters of 1934, is two years older in New York than he is in New Jersey. Maybe it's a difference in state laws for, as a Yankee catcher last spring, his birth date read Nov. 13, 1908, and when McCarty farmed him to Newark, he became a young man of twenty-four years.

Wesley Ferrell figured that two years were removed from his shoulders when the Indians traded him to Boston. Wes was born on Feb. 2, 1908, according to Cleveland records, but apparently Mr. Ferrell figured that he was salary quabbles he was leaving behind were worth a little rejuvenation as he is now only 25 years old.

Boosters of California weather can use Keith Molesworth shortstop and Chicago halfback, as a climatic argument in their favor. Keith, as a Baltimore Oriole last summer was listed as 26 years old. However, he was transferred to Oakland of the Pacific Coast league this season and so beneficial is the California climate that he is still 26 despite the lapse of a year's time.

The Giants had the 1913 pennant snatched from under all 23 noses on the team but Gus Mancuso knows how to handle that embarrassing situation. Gus was 29 last spring and he's 29 now so apparently last season he was being thrown out of the records instead of being thrown in. All of the Giants would be like to forget the 1934 tragedy but it remained for Mancuso to do it "officially."

Marty Hopkins rates the National league two years ahead of the American. When he was with the Phils at the beginning of 1934 he was 27 year old, but with the Whitesox this spring he has taken away a year instead of adding one to his age. Maybe Marty is using some mathematical formulae which will work him back to the 1919 world series in which the Sox participated.

Dick Porter, has passed from the majors but he had a drink from the magical fount ere he departed. It's too bad Dick couldn't stick around a few more years because by that time he might have established the novel record of being the only man who was younger on leaving the majors than he was when he first entered. Dick was born Dec. 31, 1902 as a Cleveland but in Boston this spring he was only 31 years old.

Frank Grube of the St. Louis Browns hasn't aged a bit in the past year. He was 28 last spring and he's 28 now. Manager Hornsby says he wants a lot of pep, dash and hustle on his club this year so probably Frank figures he can give him more of these requisites by remaining a young man.

Grube is second only to "Early" Byrd in so far as getting an early start is concerned. He was the star end at Easton, Pa. high school in 1919 when he would have been about twelve years old. He must have been quite a whiz in college too; he was graduated from Lafayette in 1927 when he was 20.

Boost Navy Quotas For Coming Months

Government Calls For Four During May And 20 During June Period

Navy Recruiter M. L. Nixon, with offices in the Federal building, announced that the U. S. Navy quota of recruits from this area will be four for May and 20 for June. The April quota is two.

He said in the nation at large the navy will ask for 700 recruits in May and 1,400 in June. Quotas during the past winter months have been small.

How times change! In the old days those who offered 40 acres and a mule to get votes were carpetbaggers.

Pitt And Temple Clash On Track

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 20.—Pitt Temple track teams blew the lid off the local intercollegiate field and track season when they clashed in a duel meet here today.

Although the underdogs, the Owls boasted a strong trio in Eulace Peacock, Albert Threadgill and Walter Natchoney who may do much to atone for losses to Pitt in the past two seasons.

PARDON IS GRANTED TO WILLIAM MURDOCK

Among the pardons granted by the pardon board yesterday was the name of William Murdock. TORONTO, Ont., April 20.—England will retain the Davis Cup this year, and the United States team will reach the challenge round against England, Ellsworth Vines, former world's amateur singles tennis champion, predicted today in an interview here.

"I can't see anybody defeating Fred Perry in the singles excepting possibly Jack Crawford of Australia," said Vines. "But Australia has no good second player."

Vines asserted Vivian McGrath, second Australia singles player, is not of the calibre to win in Davis Cup finals competition.

Mrs. Penelope McBride of Short Hills, N. J., annexed the North and South women's tennis title and paired with Miss Florence Leboutillier of Westbury, L. I., to take the doubles crown yesterday at Pinehurst. She beat Jane Sharp of Pasadena, the defending title-holder 6-4, 6-4 to capture the singles crown. Many of the youths of this city will regret to hear of the death of Saul Leff who was connected with the Leslie Hotel. He died suddenly at Pittsburgh yesterday. He was a former newsboy and always had a warm spot in his heart for the boys who sell newspapers. With Alex Silverman, a partner who also passed away several years ago, he gave a Newsboys dinner each New Year's afternoon. As many as 500 Newsies attended the affair each year. After his partner passed away Leff continued to give the dinner. Those who were intimate acquaintances of his know of many charitable acts he did here.

A pooch parade is planned for Wheeling, Saturday April 27, and every youngster marching in the parade will receive a ticket for the Tri-State Kennel club's dog show, April 30. Some years ago a similar event was held here and it proved one of the most interesting parades the city has had.

Johnny Kelley, 27 year old florist from Arlington won the Boston marathon yesterday in 2 hours, 32 minutes 7 2-5 seconds. The record is 2:11:13-5 and was made by Leslie Pawson of Pawucket, R. I. Pat Dengis, Baltimore, and Richard Wilding, Mt. Dennis, Ont., finished second and third, respectively. How Alf Snyder local entry finished, is not yet known here.

Clyde Coffman, member of the 1932 Olympic team from Kansas, built up a 139 point over Loyett Burk of the University of Oklahoma in the first half of the decaathlon competition in the Kansas relays at Lawrence, Kan., yesterday. He scored 3,723 points to Burke's 3,584.

William Spittler of Harrisburg, beat three other runners in a shoot off yesterday at Lebanon, for the twenty fifth annual Middle Atlantic States amateur wing shot title over the traps of the Pleasant Hill Gun Club. Claude Dietrich, Reading, R. C. Helt, Columbia and J. B. Hertzler, Upper Darby each broke 19 of a possible 20. In the shootoff Spittler won by breaking five straight.

On Court House Hill

Court convenes on next Monday morning for the trial of cases on the common pleas list. The first case to be taken up will be that of The Thayer company against the county of Lawrence for $24,280 alleged to be due for drawing plans for a new court house.

County officials and employees were back on the job to-day after their Good Friday vacation. They are now looking forward to Memorial Day and the Fourth of July.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell and Alderman O. H. P. Green have returned from Clarion, Pa., where they were called as witnesses in a case arising through the marriage of Joseph Magich and Margie Clark, of East Brady, Pa. It seems that the parents of the girl, who was only 15 years of age, were opposed to the marriage, and brought a charge of enticing a minor against the groom. He was held for court on that charge. The girl gave her age to the marriage license clerk as 21. Indications were that a settlement might be made.

Under the will of the late Andrew Young of Slippery Rock township, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, a grandson, Robert Bruce Young, is left $100. The balance of the estate is to be equally divided among three children, Thomas Ralph Young, Floyd Kennedy Young, and Mary Sarah Leving Young. Mention is made of a bequest before decedent's death to Robert Bruce Young.

Attorney W. W. Stevenson, local representative for Federal farm loans, warns of a scheme that is being worked by swindlers. The scheme is to locate farmers who have made applications for Federal farm loans and who are pressed for cash. The smooth tongued artist then goes to such farmers and explains that he has a "pull" with the federal authorities and can get quick action on the loan providing the farmer pays him a certain amount. If the farmer falls for his racket and gives the swindler any money he never sees him again. The only safe way is to deal with a recognized agent of the Federal Land Bank.

County Sealer of Weights and Measures, L. W. Houk, has received notice of a ruling made by his department relative to the sale of poultry and hams by merchants. It has been brought to the attention of the department of weights and measures that some dealers were selling poultry, hams and sides of bacon at fixed prices, instead of "so much per pound." The matter was taken up with the department of justice and an opinion rendered in which it is pointed out that the weights and measures laws provide that "all dry commodities when sold in bulk or from bulk shall be sold by weight, dry measure or numerical count." The opinion said that the object of the law is to protect purchasers against fraud and deception as to the quantity or amount of the commodity sold.

That young men preparing themselves for the practice of law enjoy great advantages over similar young men of former generations, was an opinion expressed by Superior Court Judge Jesse E. B. Cunningham, at the recent banquet of the Lawrence County Bar Association. In the old days, according to Judge Cunningham, embryo lawyers, with limited educations, studied under some older member of the bar, and had to pass an examination before a local board. Today a college education forms the ground-work, then a course at a law school, and finally a state board examination. Local examining boards now merely approve credentials, and a student is admitted to the bar upon motion of an attorney in whose office he has been registered. The state board exam also entitles the young lawyer to admission to practice in the supreme and superior courts, upon motion of a brother attorney and the presentation of proper credentials.

County commissioners are interested in efforts at Harrisburg to abolish the State Emergency Relief Board and allocate relief funds, directly to the counties. If this were done, the county commissioners would have entire charge of the distribution of funds, just as they had during the earlier days of the depression. It would provide something to keep them busy, and at the same time result in a considerable savings to the commonwealth. Right now, with the highway system practically in the hands of the state, and the emergency relief administered in the same way, the commissioners, elected to look after the business of the county, do not have enough to do. This is not their fault. They are ready and willing to shoulder relief responsibilities but their hands are tied. The part played by the county commissioners under the present set up, is merely to look after the county home and the indigent poor. By the latter is meant old people or those who are unable to work.

While no official action has yet been taken by Lawrence county supervisors, Butler county supervisors, at a meeting held this week expressed themselves in favor of a proposed amendment to the Parkinon act. The amendment provides for the Parkinon act funds being turned directly over to townships for road maintenance and construction. This would enable township supervisors to use funds for federal construction projects. The amendment has already passed the house and is now awaiting final action by the state senate. The association also decided to notify the state highway department that they will not accept the "set up" with regard to supervision of township work. The "set up" provides for the appointment of foremen or caretaker would be required to meet with the approval of the state highway engineer, and all checks for wages would come through them. Supervisors could apply for positions as foremen, if they so desired.

parallels Clark's, got credit for a 10 to 4 victory over the Senators but he was touched up rather freely and had to get help from Rube Walberg. The jury is still out in Grove's case.

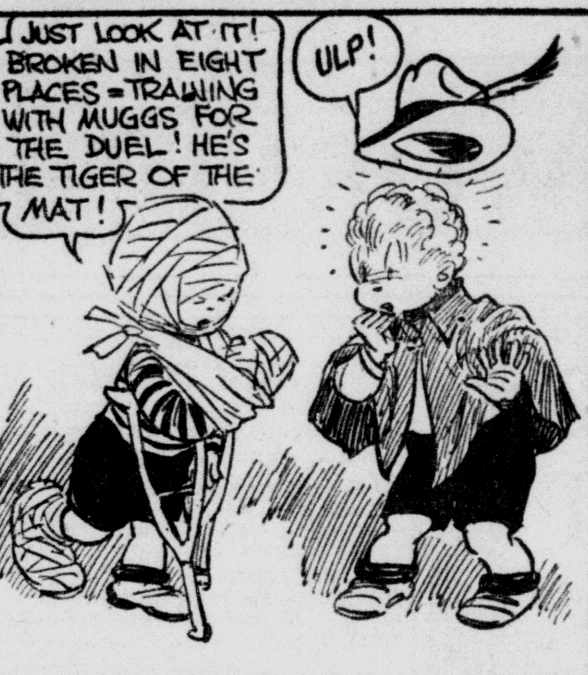

Those surprising Reds, who are not old enough to know better, took the Cubs over, 4 to 0, with St. Johnson working against Lee and Root. And lest we forget, old Pat Malone, ex-Cub, made his debut as an American leaguer for the Yanks and his effort was something less than a howling success. The A's shelled Don Patricio off the hill in less than five innings. Johnson furnishing the adios with a homer with three aboard. That was the pay-off in the 6 to 5 decision although Wally Moses, another rookie, had greeted Pat's second pitch of the past time with a wallop into the bleachers.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. April 19, nine arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 6, drunkenness and fighting 1, drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1, violation of parking ordinance 1.

Contagion during April far exceeds the number of cases during March, only 32 having been reported to the health bureau of the city last month. Scarlet fever held high with 12, chickenpox was second with 10, whooping cough with third with seven and three persons were reported to have had pneumonia.

During March, Dr. W. L. Steen examined 32 samples of water, 24 of water furnished by the New Castle Water company and eight other samples taken from privately owned wells and springs. With warm weather fast approaching examinations will be made almost daily not only of water but also of milk, 26 samples of milk having been tested in March.

It is natural to presume that a close check is kept on the health of persons employed in restaurants and places where beverages are sold. Every six months they are required to undergo a medical examination. During March 40 persons were examined and health certificates furnished the health bureau.

Councilmen D. O. Davies, J. D. Alexander and A. A. Hoyland on Friday visited Dean park for the purpose of ascertaining if it is of sufficient size to accommodate a regulation baseball field. There is a shortage of baseball plats here. A league team would like to use Dean park to provide baseball for the fans.

away. As soon as furnaces are closed in homes the department will find that there will be a considerable increase of garbage.

Concessionaires at Cascade park will employ their own employees this year, according to the arrangement whereby each of them will pay the city a flat sum, based on last summer's receipts. Last summer the city paid one man $75 a month to take a check of tickets sold. This will be unnecessary this season.

Although the city has a municipally owned park there will be no elimination of the parking fee this summer. Quite a sum was realized last summer from the parking of cars. The city will employ the men to check cars in and out. The fee last summer was 10 cents.

Mayor Mayne deserves commendation for not permitting an alleged drunken driver to operate his car several nights ago. As said in Friday's column, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. If police did more of this missionary work it might help to lessen accidents.

Chamney Davis, sanitary policeman, made 292 calls during month, securing information concerning contagion, putting up and taking down quarantine signs, inspecting meat and fish markets, hotels and restaurants and confectionery stores and fruit stands.
